

Jean Rydberg

Jean Rydberg, daughter of Ike Brigham, became President & CEO of Ikelite in 2006. Prior to that, she wisely obtained a degree in Astronomy & Astrophysics to prepare herself for the challenges of running a technology-driven manufacturing business with global distribution. In addition to overseeing everything from product development to production, sales, and service, Jean designs & maintains the Ikelite website and contributes regularly to the 1000+ collection of articles, photo galleries, and videos in the Ikelite «Underwater Photo School.»

She believes that any camera is capable of amazing results in the right hands, and anyone can become a great photographer given the right advice. When she's not working she's driving kids to extracurricular activities, reading, and working on creative projects.
