

Tom Peter

Tom Peter, born on May 31, 1967, has been an avid diver for more than 30 years. What began as a hobby soon turned into his life's passion and ultimately his profession.

He first started out as a diving instructor before discovering his second great love: underwater photography. This passion eventually led him, together with his wife Judith, to found Fantic UW-Foto AG 21 years ago.

Today, Tom combines profound expertise with decades of experience and a genuine joy in sharing his knowledge. His mission is to guide and inspire other underwater photographers, helping them refine their skills, unlock their creativity, and perhaps become underwater photo nerds themselves.
